Multi-Year Accessibility Plan

ERCO is committed to complying with the accessibility requirements under the IAS and to reviewing and updating our accessibility plan as set out in this policy at least once every 5 years.

The following is a summary of the accessibility requirements under the IAS that apply or may in the future apply to ERCO, and the associated timelines for compliance under the IAS. The summary is intended only as a guide to inform and assist ERCO in our accessibility compliance initiative.

- (i) General Requirements

Self-Service Kiosk

If and when ERCO designs, procures or acquires “self-service kiosks”, we will consider what, if any, accessibility features could be built into the kiosks to best meet the needs of customers and clients with Disabilities – having regard to the accessibility needs, preferences and abilities of the widest range of users – and we will strive to include accessibility features in the self-service kiosks being designed, procured or acquired where possible.

A “self-service kiosk” means an interactive electronic terminal, including a point-of-sale device, intended for public use that allows users to access one or more services or products or both.

Training

ERCO will ensure that all employees and volunteers in Ontario, and any other persons who provide goods, services or facilities to the public or other third parties in Ontario on behalf of ERCO or who participate in developing ERCO’s policies on the provision of goods, services or facilities to the public or other third parties in Ontario, will receive training on the requirements of the IAS and on the Ontario Human Rights Code as it pertains to persons with Disabilities.

Training will be provided in a manner that is appropriate to the duties of the employees, volunteers and other persons, and will be provided as soon as practicable after staff or volunteers commence their duties and on an ongoing basis with respect to any changes to this policy.

ERCO will maintain a record of the training it provides to staff and volunteers, including the dates on which the training is provided and the number of individuals to whom it is provided.

(ii) Information and Communications Requirements

NOTE: The following accessibility requirements related to information and communications do not apply to products and product labels, “unconvertible” information or communications, and information that ERCO does not control directly or indirectly through a contractual relationship. Information and communications are considered “unconvertible” if it is not technically feasible to convert the information or communications, or the technology to do so is not readily available.

Wherever information and communications are determined to be “unconvertible”, ERCO will ensure that the person with a Disability who is requesting the information or communication is provided with: (i) an explanation as to why the information or communication is unconvertible; and (ii) a summary of the unconvertible information or communication.

“New internet websites and web content” means either a website with a new domain name or a website with an existing domain name undergoing a “significant refresh”.

A “significant refresh” means changing more than 50% of the content, design or technology of the website, such as:

- (i) creating, rewriting or reorganizing more than 50% of the website’s content, including graphics, text, widgets, etc.;

“Performance management” means any activity related to assessing and improving employee performance, productivity and effectiveness, with the goal of facilitating employee success.

“Career development and advancement” includes providing additional responsibilities within an employee’s current position and the movement of an employee from one job to another within ERCO that may be higher in pay, provide greater responsibility or be at a higher level in the organization, or any combination thereof, and is usually based on merit and/or seniority.

“Redeployment” means the reassignment of employees to other departments or jobs within ERCO as an alternative to layoff, when a particular job or department has been eliminated.

(iv) Compliance Strategy

ERCO believes that our staff and customers are our best resources for assisting us to identify, prevent and remove Barriers to accessibility and thereby ensure that the diverse needs of people with Disabilities are met or exceeded.

For various reasons, Barriers to accessibility can often be difficult to identify. Our staff and customers, including in particular those persons with Disabilities, are often in the best position to recognize the existence of any accessibility Barriers and their impact on people with Disabilities, and to alert ERCO so that we can take appropriate action to prevent or remove the Barriers wherever reasonably possible.

Accordingly, ERCO will take the following steps to facilitate the identification, prevention and removal of accessibility barriers wherever it is reasonably possible to do so:

- in order to promote an understanding of and appreciation for the accessibility requirements under the IAS, as well as the importance of identifying, preventing and removing Barriers to accessibility, ERCO will ensure that all staff in Ontario are provided with a copy of this policy and are encouraged to review the policy and to raise any questions that they may have regarding the policy with our Legal Department;
- ERCO will encourage, welcome and appreciate all feedback from staff and customers regarding any Barriers to accessibility and more generally on how we can best achieve our goal of striving towards a Barrier-free environment;
- ERCO will take a proactive approach to accessibility wherever reasonably possible by striving to have regard to and incorporating Disability-related needs and accessibility issues in general in all aspects of our business and decision-making; and
- ERCO will strive to work cooperatively and consult with any person with a Disability who brings to our attention an issue or concern regarding accessibility, and we will take all reasonable steps in the circumstances to address the Disability-related needs of the individual.

Questions about this Policy

All questions regarding this policy, including with respect to the steps that ERCO intends to take in order to comply with its requirements under the IAS, should be referred to ERCO's Legal Department.
